UN SOLDIERS SAVE BOY'S LIFE

Two soldiers of the Swedish UN Battalion at Famagusta saved a boy's life last week.

The boy, Charalambos Theophanous, six years of age, was dead to all intents and purposes when he was found floating in the sea off Famagusta beach. The two Swedish soldiers, Privates Jorgen Thulin of Kristiansstad and Steffan Soderberg of Malmo, arrived just later at the beach for a swim. They promptly put their first-aid training into effect and started giving the boy the "kiss of life". They worked in relays, one taking over the mouth-to-mouth respiration when the other tired. Before long the "drowned" boy's heart began beating again and he was taken to Famagusta Hospital.

The Swedish Army doctor, Major Anders Carlstrom of Stockholm, also gave assistance on the beach.

Later in the day the boy had made such a good recovery that he could join his mother and go to his hometown, Angastina village near Famagusta.

(Mouth-to-mouth method on the back page).

"C" Squadron Arrives from UK

'C' Squadron, Royal Scots Greys arrived in Cyprus on Wednesday 17th June last to take over as Force Reserve from 'B' Squadron of the same regiment.

Our picture shows 'C' Squadron Leader, Major HRH The Duke of Kent, (right) meeting Captain R. R. Horne (centre) and Second Lieutenant J.O.C. Dewhurst. His Royal Highness has already been here for some time as a member of the Advance Party.

Good-bye Sir Dennis

The Commander British Forces Near East, Air Marshal Sir Denis Smallwood, KCB, CBE, DSO, DFC paid a farewell visit to Headquarters UNFICYP last Monday, 22nd June. He is due to leave Cyprus at the end of the month.

After informal talks with the Force Commander and his Staff, the C-in-C lunched in the Headquarters Mess.

Our picture shows the C-in-C inspecting a Guard-of-Honour provided by Swedcon.

Three days after the incident at the beach the two Swedish soldiers (left-right) Steffan Soderberg and Jorgen Thulin visited the fully recovered boy.

3 LI WORLD RECORD

The 3rd Battalion Light Infantry have established a new world record for darts. They recently scored 1,000,001 points in 24 hours, 30 minutes and 35 seconds, 5 hours less than the previous record. Full story on Britcon Page.

Special Representative Returns From New York

Mr. Osorio-Tafall, Special Representative of the Secretary-General, arrived in Nicosia on 19 June last. Replying to questions by correspondents at the airport, he repeated that the good offices of the Secretary-General and his Special Representative are always available and in this context the possibility of his visiting Athens and Ankara cannot be ruled out.

ROLE OF UN

The Secretary-General, U Thant, commenting on the role of the Organization and himself at a press conference held at a UNCA luncheon on the 11th of June, said:

"The news is so full of stories of conflict and violence that not enough attention is paid to the steady undercurrent of decency and common sense in the affairs of nations, and people increasingly have the impression that in international affairs nothing ever goes right.

This impression makes it even more difficult for Governments to choose the road of peaceful settlement, which is the road of the United Nations Charter. Most Governments face similar basic problems in solving their differences with other Governments. Public emotion, domestic politics, lack of confidence and the fear of losing face often make it exceedingly difficult for them to take the course of peace, common sense and mutual understanding.

If the United Nations, even in small ways, can help Governments, as I am convinced it can, to overcome these difficulties, it is obviously the duty of the Organization and of the Secretary-General to respond whenever it seems that they may usefully do so.

If by these methods we can begin to build up mutual confidence among Governments and a willingness to follow the principles of the Charter in settling differences, we may not only forestall a number of conflicts, but we may also strengthen the basis of international peace and order which we so desperately and urgently need," he added.

PÅ UDFLUGT MED VELFÆRDSTJENESTEN

SWIM SAFELY

Drowning fatalities occur every year. In nearly every case they would have been prevented if the persons concerned had taken elementary precautions.

There are some basic rules which should be always observed by EVERYBODY. Here they are:

1. Don't enter the water unless there are at least two of you.
2. Don't enter the water if you do not feel well.
3. Don't enter the water if you are under the influence of alcohol.

4. Don't enter the water for at least one hour after having a meal.
5. Don't go out of your depth until you can swim well.
6. Don't indulge in rough play in or near the water.
7. Don't swim when the sea is rough.
8. Don't swim where there are eddies or currents.
7. Don't dive in shallow water.
10. Don't dive where you may injure yourself and or another person.
11. Learn how to float and how to tread water.

Velfærdstjenesten vidtforgrenede arbejde berører næsten alle punkter af soldatens liv i arbejdet og i fritiden.

Velfærdsofficeren major L.I. Johannessen, som her ses i sit telt, har sammen med sine hjælpere forberedt en lang række arrangementer.

Blandt andet tilbydes mange rejser og udflugter med bus rundt til seværdighederne på Cypern.

BRAND VED OBSERVATIONS-POST

Forleden morgen opstod der brand i den tørre bevoksning på højderne i nærheden af Observationsposten "Hotel." Ilden bredte sig hurtigt og en overgang var posten truet, så der måtte gøres klar til hurtig rømning.

Indsat mandskab både fra Limnitis og Xeros fik dog med hjælp af en gunstig ændring af vindretningen ilden under kontrol, så den truende situation for posten og en nærliggende landsby blev afværget.

Stabskompagniets HMAK afdeling omfatter også et sadelmagerværksted. Selvom det er småt med sadler og seletøj ved Dancon, har sadelmageren, sergent N.E.J. Lundquist, hænderne fulde af vedligeholdelsesarbejder - som her ved symaskinen.

ATT RÄDDA ETT LIV

Förmodligen känner alla vid det här laget till Söderbergs och Thulins beundransvärda bedrift förra måndagen. Ni såg dem också mottaga en belöning ur chefens hand på midsommarafton.

Så här såg det telegram ut som gick hem till Sverige och Fst/Press:

Sexårige Charalambos Theofanous från byn Angastina, ett par mil utanför Famagusta, räddades här-omdagen från en säker drunkningsdöd av två vpl soldater ur svenska FN-bataljon 44 på Cypern. Räddarna heter Staffan Söderberg, 22 år, Malmö, och Jörgen Thulin, 24 år, Kristianstad, båda är förlagda på Carl Gustaf Camp i Famagusta.

Händelsen inträffade måndagen den 15 juni som är cyprisk helgdag, närmast motsvarande vår midsommarhelg. Söderberg och Thulin anlände till Famagusta Beach för att bada på eftermiddagen. Där fanns redan massor av människor. Plötsligt fick de se en stor folksamling. Då de tittade närmare efter vad som försiggick upptäckte de att man höll på att bokstavligen skaka liv i en liten pojke. Söderberg och Thulin förstod att en drunkningsolycka inträffat och insåg ögonblickligen att den "behandling" som man utsatte den livlösa lilla kroppen för var helt felaktig.

De svenska pojkarna fick praktiskt taget kämpa sig fram i folkhoppen och rycka till sig sexåringen. Thulin satte omedelbart igång med konstgjord andning enligt mun-mot-mun-metoden. Vid det tillfället hade hjärtverksamheten på sexåringen helt avstannat.

Räddningsarbetet försvarades av att saltvatten blandat med uppkastningar ständigt rann ur den lilles mun. Slutligen överväldigades Thulin av illamående. Han blev då omedelbart avlöst av Söderberg som ihärdigt fortsatte upplivningsförsöket till dess den lilles hjärta åter började slå, till en början mycket häftigt men efter en stund i normal rytm, och han så småningom jämrade vaknade till liv.

Den svenske bataljonsläkaren major Anders Carlström, Stockholm, var snabbt på plats och kunde konstatera det lyckade resultatet av Söderbergs och Thulins insats. Sexåringen fördes därefter i ambulans till sjukhus i Famagusta för observation. Han fick senare lämna sjukhuset, troligtvis helt utan men för framtiden.

Pojkens mamma blev åsna vittne till dramat på stranden och svimmade av sinnesrörelse. Hon kvicknade till senare och var givetvis överlycklig över den lyckliga utgången och tacksam över de svenska pojkarnas berömvärd snabba, resoluta och skickliga ingripande.

Söderberg, ovan i vagnen med "Chara", och Thulin var ute och hälsade på i Angastina ett par dagar efter olyckan. Det blev ett blygt återseende, i synnerhet från den lille knattens sida. Men så mindes han ju förklarligt nog inte så mycket från det första mötet.

På midsommarafton överlämnade överste Lars Lavén, t.h., var sin klocka till Thulin och Söderberg som belöning för deras insats (fotot till vänster).

PRESSEN HEMMA

I Sverige rapporterade utförligt om Söderbergs och Thulins bedrift på Famagusta Beach. TT förmedlade på sedvanligt sätt nyheten över hela landet. Även cyprisk press skrev om saken.

Klippen här intill härrör från Svenska Dagbladet, Dagens Nyheter, Expressen och Sydsvenska Dagbladet Snällposten. Vi har tagit med dem som exempel för att visa vilken uppmärksamhet som ägnats det inträffade. Varför? Jo, därför att vi är svenska FN-soldater i fredens och humanitetens tjänst. Då har vi ögonen riktade på oss på ett alldeles speciellt sätt.

BROKEN

A new British Army record has been set up by members of the MT Platoon, the 3rd Battalion The Light Infantry. Their aim: to score 1,000,001 points at darts in a faster time than the standing record of 29 hours and 30 minutes. They succeeded by the handsome margin of 5 hours, and finished on a 'double one', 24 hours, 30 minutes and 35 seconds after they started.

The average scoring rate was approximately 42,000 points an hour, or 800 a minute!

The team of eight throwers was backed by eight men who worked in relay removing the darts from the board, ten outside judges from the Royal Engineers troop at Polemidhia, and Limassol detachments of UNMILPOL and UNCIVPOL. Six score keepers worked in pairs on an adding machine.

The result has been passed to the Guinness Book of Records and the News of the World and it is hoped that a new national record has been established.

RSM Booth left the Island on Saturday 20th June to return to his regiment in Bovington, Dorset. He passed on his responsibilities to Regimental Sergeant Major R.E. Harriman, Royal Tank Regiment, who arrived in the Island on 16th June last from

ORDERLY ROOM STAFF

Two of the most overworked (and underpaid) men of the 18 Infantry Group are Sergeant Brendan "Skip" Kavanagh and Corporal Tom Butler of the Orderly Room staff at Zyyi Camp. These two men had a high reputation on coming overseas and they certainly have lived up to it by being very industrious and devoted to their work which has resulted in a very orderly and efficient Orderly Room.

When it comes to sports everybody yearns for the Curragh Plains. He has served nine years in the Army and he is on his sixth trip overseas. He is still single but we feel sure with such a sweet voice he is bound to charm

COMMUNICATIONS

Communications are very vital in the UN organisation and highly skilled technicians are required to keep all equipment in first class order.

Irecon is lucky to have Sergeant Edward McNulty above to remedy any faults which may occur in the line. Here we see him repairing a communications receiver. His home station is 4 Fd Signals, Athlone.

"NEWS FROM HOME"

Another vital form of communication is the correspondence from and to home.

Big, fat, perfumed envelopes are great morale boosters to the husbands and boy-friends of the ladies back home. One man who keeps his friends in Ireland well posted on events in Cyprus is Corporal Michael (Joey) Brennan of the Military Police Corps. He is at Wolfe Tone Camp, Larnaca.

a keen darts player although he got a very decisive "BRUSH" in the NCO's competition held recently. Sergeant Kavanagh not to be outdone is a social entertainer of note, and his very special rendering of the "Green Grass of Home" would make some "bird" off the tree.

Corporal Butler works in Area Records, Southern Command and he is married with two children. His home address is 59 Raheen Park, Youghal, Co Cork. This is his third trip overseas.

THE YOUNG PELES

With the whole world gone football crazy at the moment, is it any wonder that the most popular game is table-football. Here in the Canteen, in jovial mood they lash in balls from all angles.

Private Keith Bucknall, on the right of the photograph, is also married and has one son. His home town is in Wolverhampton. With eight and-a-half years service he has been to the same countries as Peter Kay and also to British Honduras in 1964. His occupation in the Battalion has been as a rifleman and recently as a driver.

THE MONEY MEN...

This week we say hello to the CC Fin O. That stands for the Canadian Contingent Finance Officer, and his staff, the people with all the green stuff and thank goodness they are not too stingy with it.

We are all familiar with the man who carries the "Beaver", who drops a few shekels in our pockets twice a month: the Paymaster. There is more, of course, to the finance section than the pay branch. Of the 11 people employed in the finance group only four are assigned to pay accounting.

Budgeting and control of all public and non-public funds are the responsibility of the Finance Officer. Expenditures as varied as duty administrative travel, recreation, miscellaneous procurement such as casual civilian wages laundry, engineer maintenance, etc., as well as accounting for messes and institutes are in the CC Fin O's realm of responsibilities.

Warehouse personnel, who provide goods and amenities to the non-public funds outlets, are also under the command and control of the CC Fin O.

An interesting fact about the finance section is that they deal in several types of currencies, making exchange easy for their customers but adding to their own workload. With the setting free of the Coming back to the pay accounting section, those "beautiful people" (Tiny Tim dixit) are so good they even found one miscalculation that had gone unnoticed for some nine months in a contingent member's pay record.... and to his advantage — some $200 worth — yet. Thanks HIC.... chaps!

Senior Dentist Here

Lieutenant-Colonel Harry Protheroe, Commanding Officer of the Canadian Forces' 35 Field Dental Unit at Lahr, West Germany, is currently visiting the Canadian Contingent on behalf of the Director General of Dental Services. His mission is to evaluate dental services available in Cyprus and to make recommendations, if necessary, to ameliorate those services. Colonel Protheroe was a wartime Lancaster navigator who in 1944 was awarded a Distinguished Flying Cross during a particularly hazardous bombing mission. In our photo below, Colonel Protheroe (right) watches as dentist Captain Tom Erskine administers treatment.

Canadian Contingent personnel proceeding on leave in Europe can now travel on Priority 2 which means that they have the same status as personnel traveling on duty and cannot be "bumped" off a flight by other Forces' personnel traveling on leave also. FINCON NEWS

The Great Master of the Finnish Sauna Clubs, eversti Reino Raitasaari loihittimassa suustaan tulta juhannuskokkoon esikunnan kentällä 19.6.

Suomalaiset juhannustulet valaisivat Nikosian yötä

Nuo 'hullut suomalaiset' tekivät taas temppujaan. Vaarallisen näköisten nuotiodensa loimutessa lausuivat keskikesän taikojaan ja hoilottivat yhteen ääneen naapuriensa ja kunnon kyproottien kummastukseksi.

Juhannusjuhla vietettiin FINCONissa sittenkin vaikkei siinä laajuudessa kuin oli alunperin suunniteltu. Upseeri-, aliupseeri- ja jääkärimessit olivat järjestäneet raiakkaita iltamia eri puolille kontingenttia. Tjikkloksessa oli 2.JK:n jääkärimessit järjestäneet oikein ohjelmallisen juhlaillan juhannuksen ja uuden saunan avajaisten merkeissä. Uima-altaan äärelle oli kokoontunut nelisenkymmentä miestä mukana myös poikia vuorten vartiopaikoilta. Syötiin makkaraa ja juotiin olutta ja jatkettiin menoa alempana jääkärimessissä. Kokkoa ei Kyrenian alueella kuitenkaan voitu polttaa.

Juhannuspäivän aamu valkeni aurinkoisena ja helteisena ja kuinka ollakaan 1.JK:ssa seisoivat vartiosta komppanian päällikkö, majuri Otso Salminen. Välillä kostutti suutaan ja jatkoi jämerin askelin partiointia. Vartioukkue sen sijaan piti vapaata ja purjehti merellä.

Kykkossa oli rempeä meno juhannusaattona. Noin viisikymmentä henkeä esikunta- ja huoltokomppaniasta sekä 1.JK:sta otti vastaan juhannusta suomalaisen tapaan mutta maustaan juomia grillatulla kebabin lihalla Mahtava kokko sytettiin Kykkon platalla klo 22.

Juhannuspurjehduksella Kyrenian rannikolla

Afrodite, rakkauden jumalatar, ei ole noussut merestä. Hän elää edelleen Välimeren aalloissa ja sinessä ja hänen vaikutuksensa tuntuu erityisen voimakkaana merellä kulkijoihin. Näin ainakin voidaan väittää päätellen niistä haltioituneista katseista, joita 45 suomalaista YK-sotilaan silmäparia loi niihin muutamaaan vastaan tulevaan tai vesiuksilla ohi viiletävää naisvartaloon juhannuspurjehduksen aikana. Joka naisellisen sopukka ja pehmeän kostea kohouma, jonka silmät saattoi eottaa tai uimapuvin alta aavistaa sai yhteisen jakamattoman hartaan ihailun osakseen. Niin merkillinen oli juhannuspäivän papillisen purjehduksen lumous. Purjehdus tapahtui niin sanottuna 'papin keikkana' kahdella Kyrenian satamasta vuokratulla moottoriveneellä. Veneet suuntasivat matkansa rannikkoa pitkin länteen ja palasivat takaisin kolmen tunnin purjehduksen jälkeen.

Virvoitusjuomapulloja kului noin neljä miehen helteisellä purjehduksella, jonka sotilaspastori Jouko Pulkkanen johti. Pulkkanen takana toinen veneistä. Radioyhteyttä pidettiin pataljoonan verkkoon kaiken varalta.

Välillä oli käyty uimassa, juotu virvoitusjuomia ja siristely silmiä kirkkaassa auringonpaisteessa. Uimapaikalla näkyi tyhjiä pulloja syvällä kirkkaassa vedessä. Yksi lentokala kohosi siivilleen veneen keulan edestä ja kaikkiaan viisi tyttöä näyttäytyi lähistöllä. Uskoimme että Afrodite itkee öisin.

A SPECIFIC JOB

Working away at RAF Nicosia on a Whirlwind helicopter are a team of five men who have come out from RAF, Wittering, in England, for a specific job.

● On the top of the helicopter, working on the main rotor gearbox, is Senior Aircraftman Peter Pugh.

This is to do a minor overhaul on the Whirlwind which is the equivalent to 10,000 miles servicing on a motor car. To the layman watching the work being done on the aircraft it looks more like a major overhaul but not to these men and others like them in 230 Squadron.

This overhaul is completed on all Whirlwind helicopters every 200 flying hours, and without the knowledge and technical skill of the members of the unit the Squadron would be grounded.

● Working on the Gnome Jet Engine is Senior Aircraftman Jim Cotterill who is an engine mechanic. Climbing towards the cockpit is Corp Peter Pugh.

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

The occurrence reported on the front page once again demonstrates how knowledge of the mouth method of artificial respiration can save life, even of an apparently drowned person.

The two soldiers may well consider that this action alone has made their tour in Cyprus worthwhile; they must also feel grateful to those who taught them the procedure.

This method, which is illustrated below, should be known by all members of the Force and particularly by swimmers and sailors.

1. Lay victim on his back immediately.
2. Clear throat of water, mucous, toys, coins, dentures, or food.

3. TILT HEAD BACK to open air passage.
4. Lift jaw up to keep his tongue out of air passage.
5. Pinch nostrils (or lips) to prevent air leakage when you blow.
6. Blow until you see his chest rise.
7. Listen for snoring and gurgling signs of throat obstruction.
8. Repeat 10—20 times a minute.
9. Continue Method Until He Breathes For Himself.
